

Curriculum Visions

Unique topic song

[Verse]

Once the trees sang secrets to the skies
Now the axes hum where the whispers die
Green cathedrals falling leaf by leaf
A paradise stolen by hands of greed

[Prechorus]

The rivers cry they twist and they turn
Through ash and dust where the forests burn

[Chorus]

Echoes of the canopy fading slow
Where will the wild ones go
Where will the wild ones go
Underneath the shadows of a crop that grows

[Verse 2]

The jaguar's path is a memory's trace
The parrot's colors fade without a place
The drums of the rain now play a hollow beat
The soil sighs beneath machines' heavy feet

[Bridge]

How much is a tree worth when it stands tall
How much for a world where the wild can crawl
Would you trade the future for a fleeting gain
Would you plant despair in the pouring rain

[Chorus]

Echoes of the canopy fading slow
Where will the wild ones go
Where will the wild ones go
Underneath the shadows of a crop that grows
