

MAKING THE MENU

The menu is below. Copy the template.

The menu should consist of two parts: On the right is where you will write out your specials. If you have more than one, give each a heading a separate it clearly from the one below. On the left is a space for interesting information about the state, or perhaps the food and where it comes from or something else that will enhance the enjoyment of the customer. Look at the back of a wine bottle, for example, to see how they talk about the place it came from.

The menu must be simple and clear. The headings should be bold and perhaps in a colour that complements the colour on the template. Or it can just be black. It's up to you.
