Movement and play

You use pushes and pulls when you play.

Every time you play with a toy, you are pulling or pushing it.

Every time you make a sandcastle on the beach, you pull and push the sand.

You push down on the jack-in-a-box to make it jump up.

You make a sandcastle by pushing the sand about.

You make a train move by pushing it along the track.

A puppet moves when you pull the strings.

You make bubbles by blowing (pushing) them.

What pushes and pulls do you make when you play with your toys?